JUNE 2026

Every June, the world comes together to renew its commitment to the environment. World Environment Day is more than a date on the calendar, it is a global reminder to accelerate awareness, inspire action, and reaffirm our shared responsibility towards the planet.

Aligned with this year's UNEP theme, #NowForClimate, SankalpTaru Foundation carried this message forward through meaningful campaigns, inspiring individuals and corporate partners alike to become part of climate action through native tree plantation and ecosystem restoration. The overwhelming response reaffirmed a simple truth, when the message resonates, people are ready to act.

While World Environment Day may be observed once a year, the journey of restoration continues every day. For us, this reaffirmed something we have always believed: when people are given a meaningful way to contribute, they do. Every sapling planted this World Environment Day represents a choice to restore ecosystems, strengthen biodiversity, and invest in a healthier future.

Together, we continue to restore landscapes, strengthen communities, and grow a greener future by planting high-quality native saplings that not only revive ecosystems but also create sustainable livelihoods and financial resilience for farming communities.

1 ECO-COLLABORATIONS

Turning Climate Ambition into Action with ATOS

ATOS believes decarbonization is one of the defining priorities of our decade.

Through its partnership with SankalpTaru Foundation, this commitment is transforming into meaningful environmental action on the ground.

Together, we are creating impact through:

🌱 8,000 saplings planted across Karnataka, Maharashtra & Tamil Nadu, supporting greener landscapes and rural livelihoods.

🔥 40 biogas units installed across Pune & Satara, Maharashtra, enabling cleaner and sustainable energy solutions for rural households.

These initiatives:

- ✓ Promote renewable energy adoption
- ✓ Enhance carbon sequestration
- ✓ Improve biodiversity
- ✓ Reduce pressure on natural resources

Every sapling planted and every clean energy solution adopted is a step towards a more climate-resilient and low-carbon future.

We thank ATOS for its commitment to sustainability and look forward to continuing this shared journey of restoring landscapes, empowering communities, and creating lasting environmental impact.

2 GREEN IMPACT

Farmer Development and Training program

Every successful harvest begins long before the first fruit appears. It begins with preparation, knowledge, and a community that grows stronger together.

Across our plantation regions, SankalpTaru Farmer Development and Training programs are bringing farmers together to share experiences, learn best practices, and prepare for the monsoon season's challenges. Watch here.

From strengthening climate resilience to improving sustainable farming practices, every conversation is a step towards healthier farms, secure livelihoods, and a more abundant tomorrow.

Because when farmers are prepared, the future is too.

3 HUMAN STORIES

Humans of SankalpTaru

HUMANS OF SANKALPTARU ANUBHAB PATRA | Operations Executive- West Bengal

Some people are happiest when they are surrounded by others, listening, learning, and finding ways to help. Anubhab has always been one of them. Whether on a football field, immersed in a book, or engaging with people from different walks of life, he has been driven by a genuine interest in understanding others and making a positive difference where he can.

Anubhab's experience in health awareness initiatives brought him closer to the realities and aspirations of local communities. While the work was rewarding, he felt drawn towards something that could create a lasting impact on both people and the environment, leading him to SankalpTaru.

Since joining SankalpTaru in July 2025, Anubhab has found himself at the heart of conversations that shape both communities and landscapes in Sunderbans. His real strength lies in transforming doubt into participation by winning trust and helping people see themselves as part of the solution.

One of his most meaningful experiences has been seeing families who were once hesitant about plantation gradually begin to plant and nurture trees in their own spaces. In parallel, he has navigated complex field realities, including coordination with local leaders and implementation challenges that required patience, clarity, and steady communication.

We are delighted to have him as part of the SankalpTaru family and look forward to his continued commitment to a shared purpose that reflects the spirit and mission of SankalpTaru.

3 HUMAN STORIES

Farmer Story

From a vision to a thriving agroforestry model 🌱

Vikrant Kumar from Tekari village dreamed of creating a sustainable source of income through fruit plantation. With support from SankalpTaru Foundation by planting Guava, Lemon, and Mango trees and adopting intercropping with vegetables like Chilli, Brinjal, and Tomato, he transformed his farmland into a climate-resilient farming model.

His smart farming approach generated nearly ₹2 lakh through vegetable cultivation within two years, while his fruit trees have now started providing additional income.

Today, Vikrant's success is inspiring nearby farmers to explore agroforestry, sustainable agriculture, and diversified farming practices for a more secure future.

This is not just a farmer success story.

This is a story of how tree-based farming, rural livelihoods, and sustainable farming can create lasting change.
